

तितली

A FAITH, A HOPE

JANUARY 2024

पीएम श्री केन्द्रीय विद्यालय साबरमती

PM SHRI KENDRIYA VIDYALAYA SABARMATI

NEW RAILWAY COLONY, D-CABIN
SABARMATI, AHMEDABAD

तितली
JANUARY 2024

PATRON

Smt. Shruti Bhargava
Deputy Commissioner KVS
(Ahmedabad Region)

Shri. Sudhir Kumar Sharma
DRM
W Rly. Ahmedabad
Chairman, VMC

Shri. Deepak Singh Bhati
Principal
PM Shri Kendriya Vidyalaya
Sabarmati

FROM PRINCIPAL'S DESK

It's my great pleasure to announce that Digital magazine of PM Shri Kendriya Vidyalaya Sabarmati is being published with high expectation and acclamation. This school magazine has been possible only because of the creativity of the students and great support of teachers.

Our learning environment creatively meets the specific needs of each child, while allowing all students to come together for a cross-cultural experience that develops their social skills and teaches them how to build friendships. We provide a happy and safe environment within which our students can experience opportunities inside the classroom and beyond. We foster values of courtesy, consideration, and individual responsibility, and provide both challenge and support for our young ones. With gentle care, we help shape their young minds to be ready for the world that is waiting to meet them.

The achievement of our students is built upon the partnership between students, parents, and teachers. Through quality teaching, student support, and our commitment to extra-curricular activities, we create the building blocks for success that will give them an advantage in their later years.

I congratulate and thank the entire editorial team and everyone that supported the publication of this magazine. I thank them for their hard work and dedication in making this dream come true..

Sh. Deepak Singh Bhati

Principal

FROM EDITOR'S PEN

It gives me immense pleasure to note that response to this Magazine has been overwhelming. The wide spectrum of articles in different sections gives me a sense of pride that our students and teachers possess creative potential and original thinking in ample measures. Each article is entertaining, interesting and absorbing. I applaud the contributors for their stimulated thoughts and varied hues in articles contributed by them. Commendable job has also been done by the Editorial Board in planning for and producing the Magazine. My congratulations to the team who took the responsibility for the arduous task most effectively. I am hopeful that this small piece of technical work shall not only develop the taste for reading among students but also develop a sense belonging to the institution as well.

Sh. Kiritsinh Chauhan

PGT English

INDEX

Sr.No.	POEM/ARTICLE	AUTHOR/ CONTRIBUTOR	PAGE No.
1	REVOLUTION	Saumya Kumari 12 A	6
2	CRAVING THE HOPE	Saumya Kumari 12 A	6
3	WHAT IS IT THAT WE TRULY WANT?	Bhargavi Singh Gahalaut 12 A	7
4	HARD TO LEAVE WHERE THE MIND'S DWELLED LONG ENOUGH	Bhargavi Singh Gahalaut 12 A	9
5	DREAMS	Saumya Kumari 12 A	9

REVOLUTION

Revolution, What it is ?
Emerging as a stronger personality,
Valuing your strengths and drawbacks equally,
Omitting the sad memories out of heart,
Loving the past and creating the new future,
Uniting your broken pieces in your fist,
Treating them to let the wound heal,
Imagining the new world where you can feel,
Out there where you can be whom you want,
Not the one people want
Yes, This is what Revolution is !!!

Saumya Kumari
Class 12 A

CRAVING THE HOPE

I'm craving, Yes I'm craving,
I'm starving , Yes I'm starving,
Not the money, But its my honey,
Yes, Its you my darling,
The one who is reading,
Its not been that long that we met,
Not even the clock have 12 swept,
But it has been so much comfortable ,
That in a long time,my mind,
Have been never so much stable,
I was never able to open my heart,
Until the day you made me start,
You were always like a new hope,
Yes, you were the only rope,
That pulled me out of the dark hole,
Where I was left alone with my soul.....

Saumya Kumari
Class 12 A

WHAT IS IT THAT WE TRULY WANT?

Decision-making is complex, not just from a technical perspective, but from a personal one, too. You are smeared with opinions, foreign, and are expected to decide 'fauran' (immediately). Beyond your parents, neighbours, friends, and the usual aunts and uncles, now you have the digital bloggers, vloggers, advisors and counselors, waiting at hand and foot (or rather at a tap and a click), ready with '30 ways to have the best high school life', 'XYZ before you die' and 'Medicine vs Engineering!', 'Judiciary vs Civil Services! Know who's more powerful', and the like, to overload an already confused mind with superficial facts.

Between the WhatsApp status updates and picture-perfect locations, many have lost sight of their own place. The thinkers now fear that they are overthinking, and feel diagnosed of ABC ailment, when they are just experiencing psychology student syndrome, without being a psychology major! Such absurd times we live in! So absurd that a person's bold front is approved of and admired, just because of self's lack of the same, but is also doubted, if it just so happens to be fake, and consequently results in another spiral of suspicions, guilt, self-pity and remorse.

We regret not having 20 friends because someone told us to, and not look upon our time well spent on personally fulfilling activities! Then again, is it the immense power of information to blame for our analysis paralysis, or our own inherent inability to think for ourselves? That again begs the question, is that inability truly inherent? Aren't our thought processes a mere reflection of the various experiences accumulated, pondered upon and arranged by a force we call our character? Does that imply a person's indecisiveness is a self-imposed handicap, and one has to either trudge along the rough road to improve or let themselves be sat on a pedestal which they wouldn't have gazed upon otherwise?

All fiery talks about passion, destiny and sheer hard work hurt the sore heart of the dweller, the inflicted little being I center this ramble about. Is passion something we're born with? Something we acquire and are certain of till that dreaded age of 18? Something absolute? Or something volatile, like the young hearts and minds which are forced to decide, what society calls the decision that'll impact the whole course of their life?

Aside from the naïve aspirations lies the fundamental battle between rationality and emotions. The rational decisions don't always align with what we believe we want, and what we think we want isn't always the most logical way to make a living. One leans on the rational side, as our interests change over time. Then the looming fear of regretting other's decisions and always thinking of the what ifs, or regretting our own foolishness, because 'we only live once' has been ingrained in the popular culture. Where does the timid, mostly submissive and approval seeking (which, deep down all of us are) kid end up? Or just someone with multiple interests? Someone who has multiple perspectives and can put themselves in many shoes? Nowhere, at first, many places, at second, but somehow somewhere in due time.

You might be having a hard time navigating the tempest,
But fruitful will be your conquest,
Fret not young warrior,
and for now, put your doubts to rest.

It might be helpful to remind oneself that they are neither the first nor the last, and definitely not alone in this period, and should strive for balance, balance between needs and desires, rationality and emotions, comfort and growth. Influence is inevitable, but we should think for ourselves as much as possible, and despite the new trends and old traditions, it's always best to know what we value, rather than following the herd or opposing it just because it's cool. Everything falls into place, one just has to wait, overcoming all the waves, to stay in one's only true place.

Bhargavi Singh Gahalaut

XII A

HARD TO LEAVE WHERE THE MIND'S DWELLED LONG ENOUGH

Hearing her heart thumping in her ears
She felt all panicky and out of sorts
She curled on the bed, struck with fears
Thinking it'd end before she's out.
Out of this maze
This maze like home
Which her head's preferred so long
So long it's been she feels
Since she's got it decluttered and clean
Clean, clear, firm and bold
All of this seems of people and tales unknown
Foreign - like the words spat - to others
Foreign and nothing more.
And so again she works up
To get it all done
All those things which mustn't be left undone
Only to weakly force through, to get in bed
To sleep with a peaceful, sound head.

Bhargavi Singh Gahalaut

XII A

DREAMS

Doing things with passion, where,
Resting is procrastinated, and not the,
Emerging pile of work ,where the one is Aimed and focused, like a horse in a race, just Moving straight to the finish line
Something that pushes you off your limits,
Yes, this is what completing dreams look like !!!

Saumya Kumari
Class 12 A

तितली
JANUARY 2024

Visit to Sabarmati Ashram

तितली

JANUARY 2024

Witnessing 7th Edition of Pariksha Pe Charcha

तितली
JANUARY 2024

Republic Day

तितली

JANUARY 2024

Parakram Diwas 2024

A Visit to Kankriya Lake

तितली

JANUARY 2024

Rangoli Competition

तितली

JANUARY 2024

NATIONAL YOUTH DAY

तितली
JANUARY 2024

Foundation Day of BIS

तितली
JANUARY 2024

Kite Festival

तितली
JANUARY 2024

Session

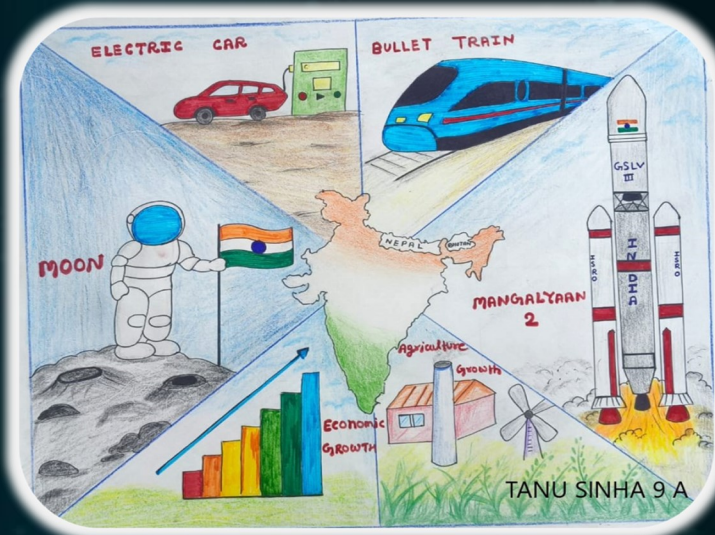

on Climate change and Sustainable Development

तितली
JANUARY 2024

Little Wonders

पीएम श्री केन्द्रीय विद्यालय साबरमती
PM SHRI KENDRIYA VIDYALAYA SABARMATI
NEW RAILWAY COLONY, D-CABIN
SABARMATI, AHMEDABAD